

I wanted to kind of try to write something that is as simple as possible to explain why I am trying to get you Brad I will send it once I correct it and you confirm that' you fully read everything above so it makes sense why I mentioned it was so specific things are more in order and exactly what was the thinking

What is already known may not be part of how you perceived the way its said is out of context it is basically so you understand what I am trying to get done I believe is something that you must either actually learn it all and honestly don't think you understand everything you want to enjoy is the day you get to pass it on,

Now this is important because to you the world I truly know will happen the most horrific thing is that my failure has the possibility of that never happening.

Brad this is not a dream, or a hope, its a certainty that whatever the end of possibly human life may actually happen all from one single thing.

Not you.

Cannot ever do anything to fix that .

That is a fantasy . I never did. Well you would most likely have already started many companies.. we would be wealthy as fuck .

I have zero doubts that it was a trajectory.

I honestly think I may have needed that to stop that and put me back on track. Because now you are confused by AI.

AI which by coincidence you are at my age when computers. I think there was some kind of intervention.

I think right now that has not been how I deal with this .

Know AI is something that .

Anything you have an idea to solve,

Stick to Nonprofit.

that if you honestly put in the effort you are putting the robot the last what is it 10 years trying to get your attention on.

I clearly shouldn't even have to convince you that I can do it .

So you are focusing on the problems.

Bradly Thomas Winterstein

Is literally created to solve problems.

That his father has put in his entire life of struggle to get to become your father

Once this occurred and had 3 kids knew that I had 3 kids who were 5 who you are today

Out of what I caused in your life you came out with me being 100% confident that my reading on it at 5 1 out of 3 kids who all except Damien who was more early so unfortunately I think he would as well Charitie if they had more stability. I think out of that.

Knowing it didn't caused me to not think you if focused and given a opportunity to really support you in ways that I can as well as you can be taught what you role it essentially is not anything you can ot on your own learn without me. I am not actually a pretty good teacher at teaching myself.

If you became teachable.

I can teach you and learn everything from your personal perspective what you need to effective do it.

If you were 10 years in now 5 4 3 even When AI hit even if we just learned and by bow would get it.

You have to decide to do that or tell me literally to fuck off I dont need you and stop contacting me.

Which honestly it would be my fault .

However I think you love me.

You have just a reason to not yrust so it will take a bit on your part to give me something in yourself that I do not deserve which would further my belief that

1 billion years from now people will be able to in a lifetime or less realistically be as close to a start that by then I mean we honesetly have created solutions that lifespans wgere people living 900 years .

I honestly can tell you why people said that .

I honestly think the planet was unpolluted we had a ozone layer which essentially is radiation and oxidation that kills carbon based life .

Should we locate a way to create this artificially as well create a way to end greed.

People will use our IP that I wished you would listed to the AI idea because its that that will be totally unknown it is something that if you really listen to someone tell you what I know and kept on focused to not need to teach you once you get that this is really not something meant for someone to enjoy or have some self interest in since its to benefit everyone's life everything .. someone who is focused on onlu'y that will not enjoy it.

Once I got this was not 30 20 15 years ago. It was the moment I told you I suddenly got that fire back. I since then have concepts and ideas clear as a bell that I honestly think is something that I literally became in tune with.

Because I actually have ideas that surpassed all my years of thinking about ideas.

Otherwise I

Brad at 5 years old I read everything and what I did was take all that and created a

You know that in the 80's it was a popular fad kind of thing us kids who were more hip from listening to Dr Demento Show actually heard that you can sing almost any song music to the lyrics of another. I think one was House of the rising Sun to the Coka Cola lyrics.

We also heard "Weird Al" Yankovic for the first time and I actually wrote a song making fun of our bus driver to

Sammy Hagar (The Red Rocker) I cant drive 55 we used to all sing on our bus that was so graphic and specifically written because Benny our bus driver pervert who somehow retired while years of this was well known and passed down to everyone but nothing was done.

He would perv on little girls that you can ask Sherry about Benny she may remember this, but I also told him directly before I noticed that he best turn his ass around because the last 2 or 3 rows he most definitely knew was my property. I got on that bus in 1979 with several bullies literally almost as close to rape as you can get. They had these girls who were basically forced to be seated with them.

At first I was avoiding not out of fear but what a kid who was forced to do 100 of these military exercises every morning. I was very athletic and looked small but I was a tornado 🌀 if pretty much anyone did something after 6th.

I in fact walked into 7 grade and my cousin Linda who was in 8th after I had taught one bully while the entire assembly was going on that Scott Winterstein dares a bully test me. My entire joy was walking in on a bully or bullies terrorizing someone even if I didn't know that guy.

One of many who I even still am friends with to this day.

I once walked in as Robert Cooper was getting this and the bully was totally unaware what was about to happen. He looks at me and I am like both hands up like I just need to piss carry on and said yeah that what I best do... Specifically made sure that I always had my favorite book which was History and the book to the class at time and polr Robert was even smaller than me and I was small. But very deceiving since if a grown man by that time is literally terrified of me because of what happened just 2 times after showing him what he had created from 3 to 14 a 7th grade bully , I made a 12th grade senior sit in a certain seat and not allowed to talk on the bus that he finally one day told the entire bus and the girl he specifically was my final straw that all bullies and the bus saw my 5ft make this 6ft giant instantly aware and crying I told him until I give you permission you best get on the bus and even when I an on it if you say a word or not sitting in that seat. I will do it again.

After he thought Sherry had a great set of tits and in shock how he went from telling me to shut the f up to begging and crying.

Bullies were over on that bus .

I went into this to make sure you tell my gransons or granddaughters that you never allow anyone that means anyone ever touch you or disrespect you or your family ever in your presence and especially never allow it to happen to others.

A person who loves you does not yell at you or force you out of fear.

I never used force or fear unless it was to protect my family that was only when I felt force and fear that protects our family I think if you cannot seem to understand how important it is that I use any fear or force on someone who I totally was devoted to.

There is a noment that person realized when devotion and love for them if they were honest with themselves know it. Everyone in my family who I cared about if they did anything that no one else knows better than them what I will do if they it once, is usually enough.

Most who do it again its most definitely not in my presence.

I mean if you walk in all confused and unaware of the person I don't enjoy at all, since I really love everyone and if it comes to me teaching you how much my family means.

I am ~~100~~ OK with abortion. I don't bave any criticism of anyone who has to choose that.

If you want my opinion on abortion of my daughter. Pleae tell me you didn't learn really fast hanging out that window at John Petersmith I some cases a full term adult who avoids cops is crying help police...

I still felt they deserved an apology for when I made a huge mistake and direct to their faces said I honestly was sorry.

So if you make certain they learn this as well you .

Someone who you really care about and honestly have tried .

There is a line that you must make it clear that you under not a single fear or debate must set that line. That you love them and this is what they are doing that they must decide to do or if not it is themselves to take responsibility for the decision you must make.

If they didn't even love me I still had hopes.

After when face to face and eye to eye with the person who they know exactly what they did.
When that Devotion is gone that really is the very core of their hate.

They hate because I don't say anything about it to anyone else and never done to harm them or done in secret on purpose.

The line gets crossed just as long as you are doing it out of love in fact Charitie Winterstein you are literally named free and unconditional love because that is what I give to everyone else. I make no condition or anything I love everyone until they cross a line and they are told that line way ahead.

This is what I think happens since I was aware and the cops had to check everything out. I zipped down and made certain that what they yelled after that I slowed that timeline. because I basically told the cops the truth I said exactly what I did and my intention was not to throw them out the window it was actually she admitted was asked what they were going to do and influence. That the mom definitely didn't want.

When she was hanging out the window I mean ask her what my position is on abortion. I mean as she was slowly getting told that and kept hammering me. I finally had a good way to teach her that she from that point was a bit shaken .

But when she realized she couldn't get to Azle and Damien and called the cops that I had tampered with her car , which was the car she drove me there we were at that point my hope was to get them to stop. I had the cables and knew the exact plugs to the rotors. And all is forgiven.

These same exact cops heard her say exactly what she was doing and driving to Azle to Damien.

Well that was when I quickly asked the cops can I go pee and they said yes but if I leave the hospital I will be charged .

I said no I was not at all leaving the hospital and swore on the life of my baby that it is urgent and 5 10 minutes top.

I was honestly telling her hey just as long as you stop this nonsense I will fix her car.

Nope while I am sitting in cell waiting while the cops checked the security system.

Knowing what she said and exactly what the urgent matter was. I really don't know if they did or didn't.

They did say to me I was very very lucky because they seemed really to be aware of this entire thing playing out clearly not possible that cameras that scanned no way I got that all done in 10 minutes avoiding cameras that scanned a 180 degree to pointed .

I said I didn't avoid any cameras I went direct to where I went and straight back which matched the walk from the bathroom I said and they were aware of the entire thing everything she said I basically admitted to without confession and was never arrested so...

I magically without any knowledge of these cameras walked a totally beeline to that took the cables stored them they said . to her

There is no evidence of what happened and I told them maybe she did it or someone really needed those cables and Karma.

As soon as I am walking out the doors .

Who is driving up.

There just as fast as they drove off laughing.

Didn't even wait I walked out to the street.

Put my thumb out all calm as I was not getting a ride frantically waving.

Not a minute later a guy pulls over and says Wow that is just shy of where They was going hop in.

Go in and said the general situation...

He said well that I have went through all that with the chaos of that on top of my situation.

As we passed them laughing and you know being totally oblivious to not only the nonsense they were causing someone who was devoted to their relationship and trting my hardest. Never offered me any help or had a business that I really could have been a huge asset to and hired.

Well when she walked up to that door I could see she was honestly shocked. She 30 minutes away left me carless and yet here I am playing with my son who loved his dad.

I used to make him so happy be got the hiccups from laughing.

Damien started saying I was his favorite dad in the who world, and I would say we how many dads do you have he laughed at the joke and said one you. And we would laugh, and he said that all the time and start that just it becme something he sad to tell me thanks .

Neever really understanding what he said was true and.

When I did fail I understood that the fastest way back was to get bonded out and attempt to talk to everyone and hoped to also fix everything in a way that you all were not the casualty.

My hope was to tell your mom the plan which I did and if she was to have done this as my mom and everyone who really saw the harm this was about to cause you kids.

Just couldn't get it through to your mom how this was a way to prove to me that she realized she was mature enough to get us back was something that I will never forget .

Even if she was not going to I still tried

And what happened her mom had someone lie and say I broke into their house and thrested them .

I was out of Parker County,

On Christmas Eve because everysingle day I would call these bondsman.

Just mostly a running joke a say hey can you ask when fhey are sending the bond from I think April may to December

Just calm and sometimes even chatting. I would tell them stuff to fix a problem with their network or tell them what to buy or what computers.

Just was totally shocked when on Christmas Eve one bondsman had wrote the bond as way to help me out .

He said one day months before said if he is still calling at Christmas we are bonding with him and even convinced the DA that they needed no ankle monitor and not paying for it.

$25,000 in cash if I broke that bond

Not a cent to my name, and absolutely no work.

Was out long enough almost a year had Jana definitely not for harming you all. Not really her at all her mom

So I mean if you have read and understand that this is something that is not me making excuses. Its me saying I honest to god have done everything that I can do to just get here what happens if he even looks at my sister what I would do to him.

I had by that time told my stepdad the same exact about 2 years before that stopped him from even walking down our hallway at all.

I was over all that and after that few times he did walk down it was terrified of me. I had also had enough of Benny.

His thing was clearly little girls and I that he wore these denim overalls that had these side buttons that were always unsnapped drove so slow, smelled really bad, and smoked cigars.

Was at first just entertainment but a pattern that I specifically was hyper aware of figured it out.

He would literally stop everyday the bus just in a certain general area before all certain girls were still no off the bus. Both in the morning and after school. Seemed at first was walk up and down the aisle mumbling with cigar smoke. He sounded like some mobster from the 30s

Lookie here see... I'm the boss see and gonna do what your told see. If you dont see. I am not driving the bus see.

You could literally see everything no tshirt or underwear just waifits of cigar and sweaty ass crack.

It was funny and horrifying girls and boys screaming as he walked it was like a red sea parting wave of kids going as far way to the window as possible to look away and not get hit by it.

Like this was a guy that went to work at a bus lot everyday and no one ever said anything.

He enjoyed looking at the girls in shorts and dresses and would literally be driving slow so he could look back in his mirror of girls clearly as well looking back and we finally made sure that any girls know when they are in a dress if we want to get home faster make sure they are aware that he breaks and does the stops to get pantry shots because at first before we all figured it out girls would not realize they used their leg on the seat to push their body up as he walked basically spread eagle. It happend all the time so I kind of had a good way to take what I was dealing with from that perspective and wrote all that we sang it so much he stopped it because of the blatant lyrics letting him know if he kept it up what we are going to do.

Music is pretty powerful and lyrics taking your soul into it.

I channeled into a song that told Benny

I wrote and everyone on the bus would sing it to a boom box of the music only

Specifically at the moment he would stop and no one would move just look away and hold our breath.

And as soon as he went back we all pretty much had the back 4 seats where all the guys that would tell him he best turn before us or we would literally throw his ass out the back door.

I got popped all the time because I would just pop the door and many kids would just walk home.

Benny shes five to life

My EyeYou know that in the 80's it was a popular fad kind of thing us kids who were more hip from listening to Dr Demento Show actually heard that you can sing almost any song music to the lyrics of another. I think one was House of the rising Sun to the Coka Cola lyrics.

We also heard "Weird Al" Yankovic for the first time and I actually wrote a song making fun of our bus driver to Sammy Hagar (The Red Rocker) I cant drive 55 we used to all sing on our bus that was so graphic and specifically written because Benny our bus driver pervert who somehow retired while years of this was well known and passed down to everyone but nothing was done. He would perv on little girls that you can ask Sherry about Benny she may remember this, but I also told him directly before I noticed that he best turn his ass around because the last 2 or 3 rows he most definitely knew was my property. I got on that bus in 1979 with several bullies literally almost as close to rape as you can get. They had these girls who were basically forced to be seated with them.

At first I was avoiding not out of fear but what a kid who was forced to do 100 of these military exercises every morning. I was very athletic and looked small but I was a tornado 🌀 if pretty much anyone did something after 6th.

I in fact walked into 7 grade and my cousin Linda who was in 8th after I had taught one bully while the entire assembly was going on that Scott Winterstein dares a bully test me. My entire joy was walking in on a bully or bullies terrozing someone even if I didn't know that guy.

One of many who I even still am friends with to this day.

I once walked in as Robert Cooper was getting this and the bully was totally unaware what was about to happen. He looks at me and I am like both hands up like I just need to piss carry on and said yeah that what I best do... Specifically made sure that I always had my favorite book which was History and the book to the class at time and polr Robert was even smaller than me and I was small. But very deceiving since if a grown man by that time is literally terrified of me because of what happened just 2 times after showing him what he had created from 3 to 14 a 7th grade bully , I made a 12th grade senior sit in a certain seat and not allowed to talk on the bus that he finally one day told the entire bus and the girl he specifically was my final straw that all bullies and the bus saw my 5ft make this 6ft giant instantly aware and crying I told him until I give you permission you best get on the bus and even when I an on it if you say a word or not sitting in that seat. I will do it again.

After he thought Sherry had a great set of tits and in shock how he went from telling me to shut the f up to begging and crying.

Bullies were over on that bus .

I went into this to make sure you tell my gransons or granddaughters that you never allow anyone that means anyone ever touch you or disrespect you or your family ever in your presence and especially never allow it to happen to others.

A person who loves you does not yell at you or force you out of fear.

I never used force or fear unless it was to protect my family that was only when I felt force and fear that protects our family I think if you cannot seem to understand how important it is that I use any fear or force on someone who I totally was devoted to.

There is a noment that person realized when devotion and love for them if they were honest with themselves know it. Everyone in my family who I cared about if they did anything that no one else knows better than them what I will do if they it once, is usually enough.

Most who do it again its most definitely not in my presence.

I mean if you walk in all confused and unaware of the person I don't enjoy at all, since I really love everyone and if it comes to me teaching you how much my family means.

I am 100 OK with abortion. I don't bave any criticism of anyone who has to choose that.

If you want my opinion on abortion of my daughter. Please tell me you didn't learn really fast hanging out that window at John Petersmith I some cases a full term adult who avoids cops is crying help police...

I still felt they deserved an apology for when I made a huge mistake and direct to their faces said I honestly was sorry.

So if you make certain they learn this as well you .

Someone who you really care about and honestly have tried .

There is a line that you must make it clear that you under not a single fear or debate must set that line. That you love them and this is what they are doing that they must decide to do or if not it is themselves to take responsibility for the decision you must make.

If they didn't even love me I still had hopes.

After when face to face and eye to eye with the person who they know exactly what they did.

When that Devotion is gone that really is the very core of their hate.

They hate because I don't say anything about it to anyone else and never done to harm them or done in secret on purpose.

The line gets crossed just as long as you are doing it out of love in fact Charitie Winterstein you are literally named free and unconditional love because that is what I give to everyone else. I make no condition or anything I love everyone until they cross a line and they are told that line way ahead.

This is what I think happens since I was aware and the cops had to check everything out. I zipped down and made certain that what they yelled after that I slowed that timeline. because I basically told the cops the truth I said exactly what I did and my intention was not to throw them out the window it was actually she admitted was asked what they were going to do and influence. That the mom definitely didn't want.

When she was hanging out the window I mean ask her what my position is on abortion. I mean as she was slowly getting told that and kept hammering me. I finally had a good way to teach her that she from that point was a bit shaken .

But when she realized she couldn't get to Azle and Damien and called the cops that I had tampered with her car , which was the car she drove me there we were at that point my hope was to get them to stop. I had the cables and knew the exact plugs to the rotors. And all is forgiven.

These same exact cops heard her say exactly what she was doing and driving to Azle to Damien.

Well that was when I quickly asked the cops can I go pee and they said yes but if I leave the hospital I will be charged .

I said no I was not at all leaving the hospital and swore on the life of my baby that it is urgent and 5 10 minutes top.

I was honestly telling her hey just as long as you stop this nonsense I will fix her car.

Nope while I am sitting in cell waiting while the cops checked the security system.

Knowing what she said and exactly what the urgent matter was. I really don't know if they did or didn't.

They did say to me I was very very lucky because they seemed really to be aware of this entire thing playing out clearly not possible that cameras that scanned no way I got that all done in 10 minutes avoiding cameras that scanned a 180 degree to pointed .

I said I didn't avoid any cameras I went direct to where I went and straight back which matched the walk from the bathroom I said and they were aware of the entire thing everything she said I basically admitted to without confession and was never arrested so...

I magically without any knowledge of these cameras walked a totally beeline to that took the cables stored them they said . to her

There is no evidence of what happened and I told them maybe she did it or someone really needed those cables and Karma.

As soon as I am walking out the doors .

Who is driving up.

There just as fast as they drove off laughing.

Didn't even wait I walked out to the street.

Put my thumb out all calm as I was not getting a ride frantically waving.

Not a minute later a guy pulls over and says Wow that is just shy of where They was going hop in.

Go in and said the general situation...

He said well that I have went through all that with the chaos of that on top of my situation.

As we passed them laughing and you know being totally oblivious to not only the nonsense they were causing someone who was devoted to their relationship and trying my hardest. Never offered me any help or had a business that I really could have been a huge asset to and hired. Well when she walked up to that door I could see she was honestly shocked. She 30 minutes away left me careless and yet here I am playing with my son who loved his dad.

I used to make him so happy he got the hiccups from laughing.

Damien started saying I was his favorite dad in the whole world, and I would say we how many dads do you have he laughed at the joke and said one you. And we would laugh, and he said that all the time and start that just it became something he said to tell me thanks .

Never really understanding what he said was true and.

When I did fail I understood that the fastest way back was to get bonded out and attempt to talk to everyone and hoped to also fix everything in a way that you all were not the casualty.

My hope was to tell your mom the plan which I did and if she was to have done this as my mom and everyone who really saw the harm this was about to cause you kids.

Just couldn't get it through to your mom how this was a way to prove to me that she realized she was mature enough to get us back was something that I will never forget .

Even if she was not going to I still tried

And what happened her mom had someone lie and say I broke into their house and threatened them .

I was out of Parker County,

On Christmas Eve because every single day I would call these bondsmen.

Just mostly a running joke a say hey can you ask when they are sending the bond from I think April may to December

Just calm and sometimes even chatting. I would tell them stuff to fix a problem with their network or tell them what to buy or what computers.

Just was totally shocked when on Christmas Eve one bondsman had wrote the bond as way to help me out .

He said one day months before said if he is still calling at Christmas we are bonding with him and even convinced the DA that they needed no ankle monitor and not paying for it.

$25,000 in cash if I broke that bond

Not a cent to my name, and absolutely no work.

Was out long enough almost a year had Jana definitely not for harming you all. Not really her at all her mom

So I mean if you have read and understand that this is something that is not me making excuses. Its me saying I honest to god have done everything that I can do to just get here what happens if he even looks at my sister what I would do to him.

I had by that time told my stepdad the same exact about 2 years before that stopped him from even walking down our hallway at all.

I was over all that and after that few times he did walk down it was terrified of me. I had also had enough of Benny.

His thing was clearly little girls and I that he wore these denim overalls that had these side buttons that were always unsnapped drove so slow, smelled really bad, and smoked cigars.

Was at first just entertainment but a pattern that I specifically was hyper aware of figured it out.

He would literally stop everyday the bus just in a certain general area before all certain girls were still no off the bus. Both in the morning and after school. Seemed at first was walk up and down the aisle mumbling with cigar smoke. He sounded like some mobster from the 30s Lookie here see... I'm the boss see and gonna do what your told see. If you dont see. I am not driving the bus see.

You could literally see everything no tshirt or underwear just waifits of cigar and sweaty ass crack.

It was funny and horrifying girls and boys screaming as he walked it was like a red sea parting wave of kids going as far way to the window as possible to look away and not get hit by it.

Like this was a guy that went to work at a bus lot everyday and no one ever said anything.

He enjoyed looking at the girls in shorts and dresses and would literally be driving slow so he could look back in his mirror of girls clearly as well looking back and we finally made sure that any girls know when they are in a dress if we want to get home faster make sure they are aware that he breaks and does the stops to get pantry shots because at first before we all figured it out girls would not realize they used their leg on the seat to push their body up as he walked basically spread eagle. It happend all the time so I kind of had a good way to take what I was dealing with from that perspective and wrote all that we sang it so much he stopped it because of the blatant lyrics letting him know if he kept it up what we are going to do.

Music is pretty powerful and lyrics taking your soul into it.

I channeled into a song that told Benny

I wrote and everyone on the bus would sing it to a boom box of the music only

Specifically at the moment he would stop and no one would move just look away and hold our breath.

And as soon as he went back we all pretty much had the back 4 seats where all the guys that would tell him he best turn before us or we would literally throw his ass out the back door.

If I wrote everything I have had trying to stop me You would fully understand that I think something just bad is in people that come into my life who are somehow influenced by something that doesn't want the things good will be the case. I honestly have never done anything wrong to anyone but 3 kids.

That 100 I owned. Everything else is pretty much something that is aware that if you all don't learn it . and take it a step further , Stuff that took years on my own to learn specifically to make your life better.

It has taken so much effort that I just for once need someone to look beyond just you. This is not about me and passed on to someone you can trust.

Yes maybe some things you will not understand or very very interested in.

However the goal here is to relay it to someone who understands the sacrifices of the start we will never see. My joy will be knowing that my 3 kids joined together and we are the start that in a billion years of time is done and each adding even more to the end result being a tangible piece of getting humans to a star . That is something that is not only a fact its starts with you and us 3

A Father who 100% needs his son the one who I believe they will accept and follow .

Th

at is the only thing I can honestly think of that you actually could confirm with your Mom/ Janna / Her Mom / Nena / Her sister/ everything I said is absolutely true. Stephanie the girl I mentioned Kayla who at 10 was totally coming over to our house because we were one place that absolutely they saw a father who really love his kids.

This is what ever child especially if they are being abused .

Being around a man who they didn't have to do anything for me ai knew they were not ONLY girls I made sure any child was aware that if they need help or need anything that they call me . It was never on purpose it was naturally occurring . Kayla hee farher was a pastor who spoke at our church. Which I really only attended at first to give Jana a way to not have to go unsupported with me I stopped all the nonsense of counseling and she basically was this little girl who I felt should have never stopped getting her . She went from birth to 8 when I had seriously chaotic things that your mom did, add in the rest who totally oblivious to what they could have helped did nothing . I worked at jobs I was way overskilled. I literally can run 3 1 million dollar restaurants way before the owener finally hired me to totally correct all the stealing and nonsense that when I starred in Azle at 16 by 17 the manager Phil paid me more than anybody under him and saud never tell anyone since I was 17 I was not able to do bank account and orher legal things because of labor laws .

I know everything about a franchise that Phil said I was an asset and under his mentorship.

Knowing me personally saud it first before anyone else that I am some who he in at that time 60 years had never seen someone who has that naturally. He said I have created a build to system and using all the accounting created a formula that they were still using that saved the stores all 3 owned

At least a hundred k at 17 he said after I turn 18 I can pick whatever store and manage it.

Which I was on to computers but not awRs.

I honestly don't know what it is..

However until 1995 even though everyone would say it I honestly believe in myself

Suddenly I have 3 kids,

What 1993 to 2001 was a 100% total reality that I did myself.

Now all I need is 3 kids to move it one generation forward